MARY ANN WILLIAMS WOMAN’S LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Association of Staff and Faculty Women’s Mary Ann Williams Woman’s Leadership Award annually recognizes a university woman who exhibits a special kind of leadership. Mary Ann Williams was ASFW President from 1990 – 1991. She instilled in others a sense of confidence to succeed, promoted a greater understanding of others, bridged differences and encouraged co-workers and friends to collaborate and cooperate. Mary Ann Williams touched many. The recipient of this award will be comparable in their actions to Mary Ann Williams. The award includes a certificate and a $500 honorarium.

ELIGIBILITY
Only current members of the Association of Staff and Faculty Women can nominate candidates for this award. However, the recipient need not be a member of ASFW.

Nominees may be full or part time faculty or staff women and must have been employed by The Ohio State University for at least one year.

SELECTION PROCESS/Criteria
A committee of the Association of Staff and Faculty Women reviews nominations. The award recipient is then notified of her selection and invited to be our guest at our ASFW conference.

Nominees will be reviewed on their dedication to:
• Encouraging a climate for success
• Appreciating diverse perspectives
• Celebrating differences
• Finding common ground
• Supporting others through mentoring, advising and/or advocacy
• Increasing awareness and sensitivity toward others
